

An article describing California logging utilization has been accepted and is in the process of being published in the Western Journal of Applied Forestry. The expected date for publication is July 2007. Because of copyright issues, we are unable to post the text of this article until it has been published. Upon print publication, we will update this link to direct to an online version of the article.

For more information about this study, please contact Todd Morgan (todd.morgan@business.umt.edu) or Tim Spoelma (tim.spoelma@business.umt.edu).